NATIONAL STRING PROJECT CONSORTIUM

INVITES YOU TO ATTEND:

NSPC @ THE ASTA CONFERENCE

Ideas by String Project teachers and directors shared with String Project teachers and directors

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3

OPEN BOARD MEETING

THURSDAY, MARCH 4

BEST PRACTICES AND RESEARCH SESSIONS

RECEPTION

All meetings will be via Zoom.

Schedule of Events

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 3

Open Board Meeting

5:30-6:15 p.m. (ET)

Meet the Board & Annual Report

Zoom link (Password NSPC)

THURSDAY, MARCH 4

Best Practices Session

5:00-5:45 p.m. (ET)

Link provided by ASTA

String Project Research Session

6:00-6:45 p.m. (ET)

Link provided by ASTA

Reception

7:00-7:45 (ET)

NSPC String Project of the Year Award & Raffle for String Project Teachers

Zoom link (Password NSPC)

For any inquiries, please contact Beth Reed, Executive Director:
nationalstringproject@gmail.com

Description of Events

Best Practices Session

Moderator: Elizabeth Chappell, University of North Texas

Undergraduate and graduate student teachers in the National String Project Consortium (NSPC) sites, from across the country, share their best teaching practices for students. Best practice approaches include beginning heterogeneous string techniques, strategies for recruitment, organization of lesson plans, and private lesson instruction.

String Project Research Session

Moderator: Dijana Ihas, Pacific University

The purpose of this interactive session is for researchers in the field of music education to present ongoing research projects conducted within the National String Project Consortium (NSPC) sites across the country. These researchers seek to improve the advancement of string teaching and learning by gathering insights and data from String Project teachers and students. Researchers will provide participants with an opportunity to engage in discussion on how to further the field of research in string education and make it more relevant for practical applications of string educators.

Reception

Network and enjoy celebrating the 2020 NSPC String Project of the Year Award given to the VA Tech String Project.
We will have a raffle with prizes (shipped to your home) for String Project Teachers.
Zoom link (Password NSPC)

For any inquiries, please contact Beth Reed, Executive Director:
nationalstringproject@gmail.com